STUDENT SUPPORT ARRANGEMENTS FOR STUDENTS STARTING COURSES OF INITIAL TEACHER TRAINING IN 2010/11

Dear Colleague,

Please find below information on the student support package available for new students starting courses of initial teacher training in the 2010/11 Academic Year. (Students who are continuing their ITT course in 2010/11 will be eligible for the same package of support that they received in 2009/10 – see SSIN 05/09).

a) Introduction.

From 1st September 2010, new students starting full-time postgraduate or equivalent initial teacher training courses (e.g. full-time PGCE and DTLLS courses) will be eligible for the same maintenance support package as full-time undergraduate students, including a fully means-tested Maintenance Grant or Special Support Grant of up to £2,906. New students on incomes above £34,000 will no longer be eligible for a guaranteed minimum Maintenance Grant of £1,106; however students will receive the equivalent amount of support in loan for living costs.

New students starting part-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT courses in 2010/11 will no longer be eligible for the full-time fee and maintenance support package. However, they will be eligible to apply for the same support package as other part-time students - a part-time means-tested fee grant of up to £1,230 and a means-tested course grant of up to £265.

Students starting flexible ITT courses of less than one academic year in length in 2010/11 will no longer be eligible for fee support.

b) Defining full and part-time Undergraduate and Postgraduate courses of Initial Teacher Training.

Full-time Undergraduate Courses

Designated full-time undergraduate ITT courses (e.g. BEd courses) starting in 2010/11 will attract the full-time student support package available for other full-time undergraduate courses – no change from 2009/10.

Part-time Undergraduate Courses

Designated part-time undergraduate ITT courses (e.g. BEd courses) starting in 2010/11 will attract the part-time student support package available for other part-time undergraduate courses, if the intensity of study is at least 50% of an equivalent full-time course over the duration of the part-time course.

Full-time Postgraduate and Equivalent Courses

Designated full-time PGCE, DTLLS or equivalent courses starting in 2010/11 should meet the following criteria in order to attract the full-time student support package:

- 1) They are full-time courses of at least one academic year in length but not more than two academic years in length.
- 2) The period of study during each academic year is at least 300 hours. (We would consider 30 hours to be the equivalent of one week.)
- 3) They are not flexible PGCE courses.

We would consider that the following may qualify as periods of study where they are explicitly part of the course:

- Lectures
- Seminars
- Taught sessions and tutorials
- Directed study at or through the college/HEI
- Teaching practice (whether observed or not)
- Assessment of peers' teaching at the college/HEI or a study centre
- Course related meetings with mentors and contact with tutors
- Course related learning sets/groups
- Development of personal development plans in college/HEI
- Literacy, numeracy and ICT skills development, including requirements of the national minimum core.
- Periods between them on the same day

Examples of courses attracting the full-time fee and maintenance support package: 1 year full-time PGCE courses, 1 year full-time 'pre-service' Diploma in Teaching in the Lifelong Learning Sector (DTLLS) courses. *The Training and Development Agency for Schools makes a clear distinction between full-time PGCE courses and flexible PGCE courses. All flexible PGCE courses starting in 2010/11 attract the part-time student support package.

Part-time Postgraduate and Equivalent Courses

Designated PGCE, DTLLS or equivalent courses of at least 1 academic year in length, starting in 2010/11 which do not satisfy the full-time criteria in 1), 2) and 3) above will, for student support purposes, be defined as part-time courses. They will be eligible for the part-time student support package, if the intensity of study is at least 50% of an equivalent full-time course over the duration of the part-time course.

Examples of courses attracting the part-time fee and course support package: all part-time and flexible PGCE courses, part-time 'in-service' DTLLS courses.

c) Fee Charging for Undergraduate and Postgraduate ITT Courses.

New entrants to full-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT courses in 2010/11 can be charged up to £3,290 in variable fees (subject to an approved OFFA agreement).

Higher Education Institutions determine the level at which they set fees for part-time courses.

d) Student support for new students starting full-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT courses from 2010/11.

Fee Support

- For 2010/11, new students starting full-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT courses will be eligible for a non means-tested loan for fees of up to £3,290.

Living Cost Support

- From 2010/11, new students starting full-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT courses will be able to apply for a fully means-tested Maintenance Grant of up to £2,906. Students on household incomes of £25,000 or less will be eligible for the full grant. For household incomes exceeding £25,000 up to and including £34,000, the grant is reduced by one pound for every £5 by which the income exceeds £25,000. For household incomes exceeding £34,000 up to and including £50,020, the grant is reduced by one pound for every £15.17 by which the income exceeds £34,000. A student whose income is £50,020 will be eligible for a minimum grant of £50. A student whose income exceeds £50,020 will not be eligible for a grant.
- New full-time ITT Students will also be entitled to apply for a full rate loan for living costs of up to £4,950 / £6,928 for students living away from the parental home and studying outside / in London or up to £3,838 for students living in the parental home, although the amount they receive will be reduced if they are in receipt of a Maintenance Grant. Where a student's household income does not exceed £50,020, the maximum amount of loan for living costs will be reduced by £0.50 for every £1 of Maintenance Grant payable.

- New full-time ITT students starting their course in 2010/11 who are in principle eligible for means tested benefits from the Department for Work and Pensions will be able to apply for a £2,906 means-tested Special Support Grant. Students who are eligible for the Special Support Grant will not be eligible for the Maintenance Grant. The amount of Special Support Grant payable will be assessed in the same way as for the Maintenance Grant. However, students who receive the Special Support Grant will not have any of their loans for living costs reduced.
- Table 1 below summarises the fee and maintenance support package available for new full-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT students in 2010/11.

Table 1 – Student Support Arrangements for full-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT students starting their course in the 2010/11 Academic Year.

Figures quoted for loans for living costs apply to students living away from the parental home and studying outside London.

e) Student support for new students starting part-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT courses from 2010/11.

Fee and Course Support

- For 2010/11, students starting part-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT courses will be eligible for a fully means-tested Fee Grant to cover the cost of their fees. The amount of Fee Grant that a part-time student will receive depends on the rate at which the student studies their course each year; this is referred to as ‘intensity of study’. There are three bands of fee grant, £820, £985 and £1,230 (maximum amounts). Each is measured as a percentage of a full-time equivalent course: 50 – 59%, 60 -74% and 75% or more.
- New part-time ITT students will also be eligible for a fully means-tested Course Grant of up to £265 for books, travel and other expenditure relating to their course. Unlike the Fee Grant, the Course Grant is not linked to the intensity rate at which a part-time ITT studies their course. Tables 2 and 3 below summarise the student support package available for new part-time undergraduate and postgraduate ITT students in 2010/11.
- Part-time students with partners and/or dependent children will have some of their income disregarded when their support is determined: £2,000 for a partner (where counted), £2,000 for the first dependent child and £1,000 for each subsequent child.

f) Bursaries.

Trainees on Schools Sector PGCE courses leading to QTS may be eligible for tax-free bursaries from the Training and Development Agency for Schools (TDA). Further information on TDA bursaries for 2010/11 is available on the TDA website at:

http://www.tda.gov.uk/Recruit/thetrainingprocess/fundinginengland/postgrad_funding.aspx

Students intending to teach shortage subjects in FE Colleges may also be eligible for bursary funding for their courses. Guidance for Institutions and individual students is available on the Teachernet website at:

<http://www.teachernet.gov.uk/professionaldevelopment/careers/post16/>

If you require any further clarification on fees or student support please e-mail ssin.queries@slc.co.uk

g) Case Studies.

1) New students starting full-time PGCE, DTLLS and equivalent courses in 2010/11. These students will receive the same package of fee and maintenance support as full-time undergraduate students from 2010/11.

1.1) Case Study A

Student A, living away from home and studying outside London, is starting a one-year full-time PGCE course in September 2010. Student A has a household income of £40,000.

He will be eligible for a fee loan of up to £3,290.

He will also be eligible for a Maintenance Grant of £711. The assessment is made as follows:

Income between £25,000 and £34,000 = £9,000/5 = £1,800

Income between £34,000 and £40,000 = £6,000/15.17 = £395 (rounded down)

Total to reduce Maintenance Grant = £1,800 + £395 = £2,195

Total maintenance grant Entitlement = £2,906 - £2,195 = £711

Student A will also be eligible for a loan for living costs of £4,595. The assessment is made as follows:

$£4,950 - (£711)/2 = £4,594.50$

Rounding up to the nearest £1 gives an entitlement of £4,595.

The loan for living costs is reduced by £0.50 for every £1 of Maintenance Grant awarded.

1.2) Case Study B

Student B, living away from home and studying in London, is starting a one year full-time PGCE course in September 2010. She is eligible for the Special Support Grant. Student B has a household income of £45,000.

Student B will be eligible for a fee loan of up to £3,290.

She will also be eligible for a Special Support Grant of £381. The assessment is made as follows.

Income between £25,000 and £34,000 = $\frac{£9,000}{5} = £1,800$
Income between £34,000 and £45,000 = $\frac{£11,000}{15.17} = £725$ (rounded down)
Total to reduce Special Support Grant Entitlement = $£1,800 + £725 = £2,525$
Total special support grant = $£2,906 - £2,525 = £381$

Student B will also be eligible for a full London rate loan for living costs of £6,928 as SSG is not substituted for loan.

1.3) Case Study C

Student C, living away from home and studying outside London, is starting a one year full-time PGCE course in September 2010. Student C has a household income of £50,020.

He will be eligible for a fee loan of up to £3,290.

He will also be eligible for a minimum Maintenance Grant of £50. The assessment is made as follows:

Income between £25,000 and £34,000 = $\frac{£9,000}{5} = £1,800$
Income between £34,000 and £50,020 = $\frac{£16,020}{15.17} = £1,056$ (rounded down)
Total to reduce Maintenance Grant Entitlement = $£1,800 + £1,056 = £2,856$
Total maintenance grant Entitlement = $£2,906 - £2,856 = £50$

Student C will also be eligible for a loan for living costs of £4,925 ($£4,950 - (\frac{£50}{2})$). The loan for living costs is reduced by £0.50 for every £1 of Maintenance Grant awarded.

1.4) Case Study D

Student D, living away from home and studying outside London, is starting a one year full-time PGCE course in September 2010. Student D has a household income of £50,778.

He will be eligible for a fee loan of up to £3,290.

He will not be eligible for a Maintenance Grant, but will be eligible for a full loan for living costs of £4,950.

1.5) Case Study E

Student E, living away from home and studying outside London, is starting a one year full-time PGCE course in September 2010. Student E has a household income of £57,708.

He will be eligible for a fee loan of up to £3,290.

He will not be eligible for a Maintenance Grant, but will be eligible for a minimum loan for living costs of £3,564 (72% of the maximum rate of loan for students living away from home and studying outside London). The assessment is made as follows:

Income between £50,778 and £57,708 = £6,930/5 = £1,386
Total loan for living costs entitlement = £4,950 - £1,386 = £3,564

1.6) Case study F

Student F is living away from home and studying outside London and is starting a one year full-time PGCE course in September 2010.

He will be eligible for a fee loan of up to £3,290.

Student F has chosen not to provide the information needed to calculate his household income. He will be eligible for a reduced rate loan for living costs of £3,564 (72% of the maximum loan for living costs for students living away from home and studying outside London).

2) New students starting part-time PGCE, DTLLS and equivalent courses in 2010/11. These students will receive the same package of fee and course support as part-time undergraduate students from 2010/11. The case studies apply to single students.

i) 75% or more Intensity of Study for fee support

2.1) Case Study G

Student G is starting a two-year part-time PGCE course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 77% of a full-time course. He has a household income of £16,844. Student G will be eligible for a full Fee Grant of £1,230 and a full Course Grant of £265.

2.2) Case Study H

Student H is starting a two-year part-time FE sector DTLLS course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 75% of a full-time course. He has a household income of £16,845. Student H will be eligible for a Fee Grant of £1,180 (£1,230 - £50) and a full Course Grant of £265.

2.3) Case Study I

Student I is starting a flexible PGCE course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 80% of a full-time course. She has a household income of £20,000. Student I will be eligible for a Fee Grant of £764. The assessment is made as follows:

Income between £16,845 and £20,000 = £3,155/7.59
Total to reduce Fee Grant = £416 (rounded to nearest pound)

Total Fee Grant entitlement = (£1,230 - £50) - £416 = £764

Student I will be eligible for a full Course Grant of £265.

ii) 60 - 74% Intensity of Study for fee support

2.4) Case Study J

Student J is starting a two-year part-time PGCE course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 60% of a full-time course. He has a household income of £16,844. Student J will be eligible for a full Fee Grant of £985 and a full Course Grant of £265.

2.5) Case Study K

Student K is starting a two-year part-time FE sector DTLLS course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 65% of a full-time course. He has a household income of £16,845. Student K will be eligible for a Fee Grant of £935 (£985 - £50) and a full Course Grant of £265.

2.6) Case Study L

Student L is starting a flexible PGCE course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 70% of a full-time course. She has a household income of £20,000. Student L will be eligible for a Fee Grant of £609. The assessment is made as follows:

Income between £16,845 and £20,000 = £3,155/9.69

Total to reduce Fee Grant = £326 (rounded to nearest pound)

Total Fee Grant entitlement = (£985 - £50) - £326 = £609

Student L will also be eligible for a full Course Grant of £265.

iii) 50 - 59% Intensity of Study for fee support

2.7) Case Study M

Student M is starting a two-year part-time PGCE course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 50% of a full-time course. He has a household income of £16,844. Student M will be eligible for a full Fee Grant of £820 and a full Course Grant of £265.

2.8) Case Study N

Student N is starting a four year part-time FE Sector DTLLS course in September 2010 and has a household income of £15,000. The course is equivalent to 50% of a full-time course. He already has a BSc Degree in History. Student N will be eligible for a full Fee Grant of £820 and a full Course Grant of £265. For students wishing to take a part-time ITT course up to 4 years in length, previous equivalent or higher level qualifications are not taken into account unless the student has qualified teacher status (QTS).

2.9) Case Study O

Student O is starting a two-year part-time FE sector DTLLS course in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 55% of a full-time course. He has a household income of £16,845. Student O will be eligible for a Fee Grant of £770 (£820 - £50) and a full Course Grant of £265.

2.10) Case Study P

Student P is starting a flexible PGCE course of at least 3 academic years in length in September 2010. The course is equivalent to 59% of a full-time course. She has a household income of £20,000. Student P will be eligible for a fee grant of £505. The assessment is made as follows:

Income between £16,845 and £20,000 = £3,155/11.91
Total to reduce Fee Grant = £265 (rounded to nearest pound)
Total Fee Grant entitlement = (£820 - £50) - £265 = £505.

Student P will also be eligible for a full Course Grant of £265.

iv) Entitlement to minimum fee grant and/or course grant

2.11) Case Study Q

Student Q is starting a two year part-time PGCE course in September 2010. He has a household income of £25,420. Student Q will be eligible for a minimum Fee Grant of £50 and a full Course Grant of £265.

2.12) Case Study R

Student R is starting a two year part-time FE sector DTLLS course in September 2010. He has a household income of £25,421. Student R will be eligible for full Course Grant of £265 but no Fee Grant.

2.13) Case Study S

Student S is starting a two year part-time PGCE course in September 2010. She has a household income of £27,000. Student S will be eligible for a Course Grant of £163. The assessment is made as follows:

Income between £26,030 and £27,000 = £970/ 9.47
Total to reduce Course Grant = £102 (rounded to nearest pound)

Total Course Grant entitlement = £265 - £102 = £163.

2.14) Case Study T

Student T is starting a flexible PGCE course of at least 3 academic years in length in September 2010. He has a household income of £28,065. Student T will be eligible for a minimum Course Grant of £50.

2.15) Case Study U

Student U is starting a two year part-time PGCE course in September 2010. He has a household income of £28,066. Student U is not eligible for a Fee grant or a Course grant.

2.16) Case Study V

Student V is starting a flexible PGCE course of 10 weeks in length in September 2010. He has a household income of £15,000. As his course is under 1 academic year in length, Student V is not eligible for student support.
